Scope As part of RAK Ceramics UK's ongoing relationship with Radisson Edwardian Hotels, RAK Ceramics have manufactured and supplied tiles, slabs, bathroom vanity units and staircases for the luxury four star Mercer Street Hotel refurbishment. The contemporary semi-polished metallic Paradox porcelain floor was chosen by the designer to enhance the ambience and luxury look of the hotel. Bespoke fabrications of Lounge black polished slabs were used in the bathroom and vanity areas specified because of their imperviousness to water absorption at 0.5%. Staircases and window sills were also fabricated as bespoke items and specified because of the materials' strength, durability and resistance to scratching. Results Having worked with RAK Ceramics on various projects throughout a range of new building and renovations, the client trusted the professionalism and delivery of product quality that gave authentic look to the application area with outstanding result and recognition.
