COOKINGRAK – THE INVISIBLE INDUCTION COOKTOP FROM RAK CERAMICS WINS THE ARCHIPRODUCTS DESIGN AWARDS 2023

RAK
CERAMICS

The innovative CookingRAK hidden induction cooktop from RAK Ceramics has won the Archiproducts Design Awards 2023, an internationally acclaimed design competition organised by Archiproducts. This prestigious event recognises products that have the potential to revolutionise and enhance the quality of life today and tomorrow through the use of new materials, forms or functions.

CookingRAK has been specially developed for exclusive use with RAK Ceramics' Maximus Mega slabs, seamlessly integrated into an induction cooktop. The design aims to create a multifunctional kitchen space that is perfect for everyday use. This win underscores RAK Ceramics' commitment to pushing the boundaries of design innovation and delivering products that enhance the functionality and aesthetics of modern living.

The CookingRAK system has recently been chosen by Massimo Bottura, a three-Michelin-starred chef.
